TENDER MISSIVES READ IN THE COURT ROOM

Which Were Written By Senator Brown to Mrs. Bradley---Called Her His Dear Wife and Told Her to care for Their Child.

Women Throng the Court Room, Packed in the Seats Like Sardines, and Their Chatting Disturbs the Court Who Threatens to Eject Them.

Washington, Nov. 20.—Much shaken with the strain of her experience on the witness stand yesterday, Mrs. Bradley nerved herself today to face the great ordeal of bringing her narrative to its tragic close.

The first part of her story had to do with the early acts of the drama in which Salt Lake City was the scene. These were days of happiness of hope and then of despair. The final act, the burden of her story today, deals with the shooting of the man she loved.

While Mrs. Bradley had been giving her testimony two alienists sitting behind District Attorney Baker and his aids, have been scrutinizing her closely, taking frequent notes. These men, who appeared in the Thaw trial, will bring all their experience to bear to break down the effect of the harrowing recital.

The first day of Mrs. Bradley's testimony left few of the crowd that listened to it with dry eyes. Some wept openly. Others stirred with overpowering sympathy at the little woman struggling with her own grief. But there was one who sat dry eyed through it all. Brown, son of the man whose misdeeds are the warp and woof of this tale of suffering, leaned forward to catch ever faltering word, but his face was tense and drawn, as if he were scarcely able to take the measure of the crushing revelations.

Scores of tender missives written by Senator Brown to Mrs. Dolly Madison Brown, were introduced in the trial today. As old records of love that led to her downfall were held before her Mrs. Bradley quailed, and struggled to hide emotion, often sinking back speechless in her chair.

These are some of the extracts: "Beloved, I love you in the truest, best sense a man can love a woman, not alone for passion that is so warm between us but in a higher and truer way. I love to be with you, to hear you, to be close to you. I keep wishing this morning I might hear you sing some sweet song. My life, my hope is all bound up in you. Take good care of our little Arthur Brown, my dear wife. Your blood with mine commingled yet shall mount the throne of kings."

Curiosity made women begin to arrive in the court room as early as six o'clock this morning. A half hour before court opened there were not a score of men present, while women were packed close in all the seats, chatting like magpies. They were censured by Justice Stafford, who threatened ejectment.

LOVERS USED CODE TELEGRAMS

In sending telegrams the lovers used a code. "Illumine" meant "I love you." The introduction of letters was a crafty move on the part of the attorneys for the defendant. It enabled their client to recuperate her strength before proceeding with the narration of the circumstances leading up to the tragedy of December last.

When the piteous narrative was resumed Mrs. Bradley told of staying five days at Brown's home. "I said I would not leave until he told me he intended to marry me. I read the Bible and poetry, but he would do nothing." She said she left only when he charged that she was trying to steal the house. Calling later she said a watchman informed her that she could not see Brown, but she denied stoning windows.

Court adjourned for lunch. Afterward Mrs. Bradley told of following Brown to Washington early in December.

"It was simply will power that kept me up," she said.

This afternoon Mrs. Bradley told of the fatal shot saying she had not intended to kill when she went to Brown's room. He rushed at her and she heard a shot which aroused her, she said.

A YOUNG PENITENT

New York, Nov. 20— Temporary shelter for young women either discharged or released on probation from the night court has become an imperative need. It is one of the anomalies of justice as administered by the tribunal that it warns, and counsels those who have been mislead by the lure of the city, shows them all mercy, urges their retracing of steps to the old ideas, and often commits them back to the streets at 3 o'clock in the morning.

First to recognize the situation is Miss Maud E. Miller, probation officer of the night court, and she has begun to plan for establishing a refuge where she may look after those who are given into her charge at least until the dawn of day. This brilliant young woman, who, although a graduate of Smith college and a master of Columbia university, has donned the blue garb of a police probation officer to aid and solve an intricate social problem. She says she has been greatly handicapped in her effort, to redeem ruined lives but is getting some assistance now.

WISH PRISONERS BROUGHT TO COURT

The delegation has interested the Chamber of Commerce, and the rivers and harbors committee.

Detective Bennett of the B. & O. swore out the warrants, and one man, W. F. Summers, was taken before Mayor Brickes this morning and pleaded guilty to the charge of disorderly conduct, and was fined $15 and costs.

The other men will probably be located some time this afternoon.

HARVEY GARBER AND TOM JOHNSON

In a Lively Contest for Ohio Member of the Democratic National Committee.

Toledo, Nov. 20—Tom Johnson, Democratic national committeeman, is to have the fight of his life to retain his place in the national committee, according to statements made here Tuesday by Democratic members of the General Assembly.

Harvey Garber, chairman of the Democratic state committee, covets Johnson's place and seeks to widen his sphere of political activity. Garber, according to statements already has an organization at work setting up pins in congressional districts.

There has been very little political bed-fellowship between Garber and Johnson since 1905, when Garber backed Pattison for governor and Johnson went behind Mayor Whitlock. Johnson's victory over Burton has strengthened him in the state and has driven Garber into the field months before congressional conventions will be held.

Garber already has two national delegates in four districts pledged to his program and has candidaes selected in the Fifth, Ninth and other northern districts. Through his control of the party organization in the state Garber is equipped to give Johnson a vigorous battle.

INTEREST OF HELEN GOULD FOR POOR GIRL

Boston, Nov. 20—The interest and friendship of Miss Helen Could is believed to have secured the release of Ethel M. Haven, the telephone girl, who last night left the Charles street jail where she was awaiting trial for raising a check. Miss Gould is understood to have befriended the girl before. When she learned of her trouble here she had her attorneys telegraph John P. Feeney, who secured Miss Haven's release on $500 bail. Before leaving for New York today the girl said her family had been wealthy but tha t her father, stepmother and grandparents had died within three years, leaving her almost destitute.

GREATER PITTSBURG DECEMBER 9TH

Pittsburg, Nov. 20—Under an agreement reached at a conference between Pittsburg and Allegheney officials the formal consolidation of the two cities will take place December 9.

Most of the stone marbles used by boys are made in Germany. The refuse only of the marble and agate quarries is employed, and this is treated in such a way that here is practically no waste.

COLLINS AND KERLIN ARE RESIGNED TO THEIR FATE

The cases of the State of Ohio vs. George Kerlin and George Collins, convicted of manslaughter, Kerlin for the killing of Charles Higgins, and Collins for the killing of Homer Loar, in which the Supreme court Tuesday overruled motions for leave to file petitions in error in the lower court, the men have been notified of the result of the efforts that have been made in their behalf, and are reconciled to the situation, and appreciate the services of those who labored for their release.

The officers of the union are fully convinced that Kerlin and Collins are not guilty of the charge of which they have been convicted, and propose to continue their efforts in their behalf. Collins is at present in his home in St. Louis, and Kerlin is at his home in Philadelphia. A party representing the bondsmen has gone to St. Louis to make provision for Collins' family and will return with Collins to Newark in a few days and surrender him to Sheriff Redman. When this is done, a representative of the bondsmen will go to Philadelphia to make like provision for Kerlin's family and return to Newark, surrendering Kerlin to the sheriff, after which the men will be taken to the penitentiary to enter upon their long sentences.

MAYOR WORKS AS DAY LABORER

Wauseon, O., Nov. 20—Working as a day laborer in the street cleaning gang, James S. Brailey, mayor of Wauseon, and president of the local telephone company, a man reputed to be worth at least $50,000, defies his critics and questioners alike.

"I need exercise. I like the work, and in my opinion it's no one's business if I choose to work in the street cleaning gang," he said yesterday, pressed for an explanation of his conduct.

Brailey took shovel in hand the day before election and people called the act a play to the common voters. But his continuance in the job has caused comment throughout the city.

Some cities have gone so far as to threaten council impeachment proceedings, alleging the mayor's action is undignified.

POLITICIAN IS INDICTED FOR FRAUD

Bryan, O. Nov. 20.—Daniel Baxter, politician and wealthy pioneer, has been secretly indicted by the Williams county grand jury for obtaining money under false pretenses. He is said to have made fraudulent claims of loss by fire. Baxter is in Detroit where he has been a fugitive from justice since the indictment was brought a year ago, charging arson. Efforts to extradite him before failed because the indictment was based on the confession of Jack Page, a notorious firebug.

BIG LINER LOST

Queenstown, Ireland, Nov. 20—The new Cunarder Mauretania has not been heard from since noon Monday, when the vessel was battling with a heavy southwest gale. Though the seas were described as mountainous the liner was behaving well. So fierce was the storm that the vessel had lost about 17 miles of its lead over the Lusitania.

TAFT ENJOYING HIS JOURNEY

St. Petersburg, Nov. 20—Letters from eastern Siberian cities along the trans-Siberian railroad say Secretary Taft of America and his party are enjoying their trip and profess to be very comfortable in the special car placed at their disposal by the Czar. The Russian authorities are not so happy, however. They think the occasion one likely to appeal to the terrorists as affording an opportunity for a blow which would be far more widely advertised than any they could deliver against a Russian dignitary, and will not be easy in their minds as long as Taft is in the Czar's territory. The train could not be watched more carefully, both by the railroad and military authorities were Nicholas himself a passenger.

The St. Petersburg press is adding to the government's embarrassment by hinting that an official welcome to Taft may be misconstrued by other powers and involve Russia in international complications. Several newspapers, persisting in the belief that Japan and the United States are on the eve of a conflict, give warning that no political combination should be entered into by the Czar which might give offense to the Japanese.

NEIGHBORS STORIES PROMPTED SUICIDE

FORAKER

BOOM FOR PRESIDENT BEING CONSIDERED BY OLD GUARD

GATHERED AT COLUMBUS

Senator Dick Says Foraker Will Run--Big Ohio Fight that is Coming

Conference Ostensibly to Arrange for Banquet of Ohio state League of Republican Clubs

Columbus, Nov. 20—The initial movement that is expected to blossom into resolutions favoring the candidacy of Senator Joseph B. Foraker for the Republican nomination for the presidency will be inaugurated in this city today.

The old Foraker guard, the men who have stood behind the senior senator in all the hurly-burly of Ohio politics, ever since his nomination by the Republican state convention in 1883, will be here to again proclaim their fealty to his cause and again do service at his command. ,,

It is expected that every county will be represented at the gathering, to be held at the Neil house Wednesday afternoon at 2 o'clock, and upon the outcome of that conference will depend whether his Ohio friends will at once enter the lists in his behalf or await the order of their chief.

Senator Dick, in an interview at Akron, expresses the belief that Senator Foraker will shortly announce his candidacy for the Republican presidential nomination.

There has been a rumor to this effect for more than a week, but when Senator Dick says so, it is taking tangible form. It begins to look as though there was to be a fight to the death between the factions in Ohio, but Senator Foraker himself is saying nothing further than to let it be known that the people of Ohio are "Trusting in God and obeying the constitution."

CONSPIRACY HAS BEEN UNEARTHED

To Overthrow Governments in Eastern Europe and Murder Ruler of Montenegro.

Vienna, Nov. 20—A conspiracy to blow up the National Assembly, to murder Prince Nicholas, all the members of his family and his ministers, to seize the Montenegrin government and to form a union of all the Servian speaking countries has been discovered, according to dispatches from Cettinje, the capital of Montenegro. More than 150 arrests have been made. Implicated in the plot are former Premier Radovic and many influential men in Montenegro, including relatives of Prince Nicholas. Radovic was arrested at the Austrian frontier. Radovic has made a confession revealing details of the conspiracy, plans and including a complete list of those concerned. A strong following had already been secured throughout Montenegro, Bosnia, Servia, Herzegovnia and Macedonia. The Montennegrin dynasty was to have been attacked first. Uprisings were to have followed in other states and a single powerful government formed, through which the conspirators hoped to revive the medieval glories of the Servian race.

It is feared the arrests in Montenegro may not prevent an outbreak and the governments of the states involved are already hurrying troops to strategic points.

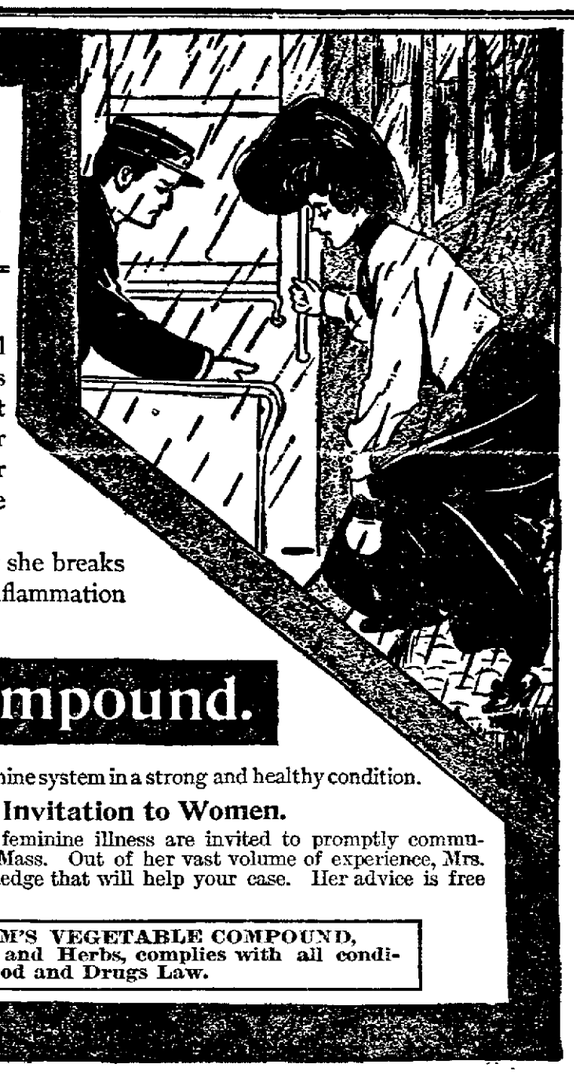
Overworked Women

The Suffering and Pain Endured By Many Working Women is Almost Beyond Belief.

THERE are thousands of American women whose duties call them out in all winds and weathers, many of whom sit with wet feet or stand all day, thus weakening and undermining their health. Women, however, for the most part, spend their lives at home, and these women are willing and ambitious that their homes shall be kept neat and pretty, their children well-dressed and tidy, and do their own cooking, sweeping and dusting, and often washing, ironing and sewing for the entire family. Both of these classes call for our sympathy.

Truly the work of such a woman is "never done," and is it any wonder that she breaks down at the end of a few years, the back begins to ache, there is a displacement, inflammation or ulceration of certain organs, and the struggle to continue her duties are pitiful.



Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

Made from native roots and herbs, is the exact medicine a woman needs whose strength is overtaxed. It keeps the feminine system in a strong and healthy condition.

Mrs. Sadie Abbott, of Jeannette, Pa., writes:

Dear Mrs. Pinkham:—"I suffered severely with pain every month, and also a pain in my left side. My doctor prescribed for me but did me no good; a friend advised Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and I wrote you in regard to my condition. I followed your advice and am a perfectly well woman. The pains have all disappeared, and I cannot recommend your medicine too highly."

Mrs. Lena Nagel, of 117 Morgan St., Buffalo, N.Y., writes:

Dear Mrs. Pinkham:—"I was completely worn out and on the verge of nervous prostration. My back ached all the time. I had dreadful periods of pain, was subject to fits of crying and extreme nervousness, and was always weak and tired. Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound completely cured me."

Mrs. Pinkham's Invitation to Women.

Women suffering from any form of feminine illness are invited to promptly communicate with Mrs. Pinkham, at Lynn, Mass. Out of her vast volume of experience, Mrs. Pinkham probably has the very knowledge that will help your case. Her advice is free and always helpful.

LYDIA E. PINKHAM'S VEGETABLE COMPOUND, made from Native Roots and Herbs, complies with all conditions of the new Pure Food and Drugs Law.

EARLY HISTORY OF NEWARK

TEAMSTERS AND TEAMING.

In the primitive days of Licking county the teamster was a mighty man. Seated on his powerful saddle-horse, having five other splendid animals in charge, he would probably have disdained to acknowledge Napoleon as uncle. I remember two families living at that time in the town, two brothers named Smith and two brothers of the Stickley family, besides Jacob Hill, living in the country, whose principal business was hauling goods from Baltimore. The present generation may form some faint conception of this business of teaming when told that the round trip to Baltimore occupied some four or five weeks. No animal, or circus, or big convention could create a greater sensation than did in those days Stickley's big Virginia covered wagon with six horses, with bear-skin and bells, entering the town loaded with Buckingham's goods.

MARKET.

In the early settlement of the country marketing was conducted on a very limited scale. This seemed to follow as a matter of course, as the town people could, upon their lots, raise their own vegetables and poultry. As for cows, when it is remembered that a greater part of the town and surrounding country was a common, it will be seen that this kind of stock could, in a great measure, maintain themselves. Besides many of the town people were essentially farmers, tending out-lots. Country people could, on rare occasions, such as court sessions, shows and general musters, upon a very limited scale and at very low prices, dispose of their butter, eggs and fowls, mainly to tavern keepers. The following may be regarded as the list of prices which ruled for many years: Eggs six cents per dozen, butter the same price per pound; chickens six cents apiece, and turkeys from fifteen to twenty-five cents. As for grain, such as wheat, corn and oats, it was nearly a drug on the market. Wheat when it could be sold at all, brought about twenty-five cents per bushel. Farmers were glad enough by hauling their wheat to Zanesville to exchange two bushels of wheat for one of salt. The present generation may appreciate the scarcity of money in those days when told that the postage on a letter was 25 cents and that many found themselves unable to take a letter out under two weeks, and some times not at all. It was even no small matter to procure money enough to see the shows. One good result seemed to follow this abundance of provisions, and that was that people were always sure of an abundance to eat and of the choicest kind that the country could produce. This abundance was no where more apparent than at the husking frolics, which were then in vogue. I have attended many of these frolics where nearly a hundred sat at a table loaded with the best victuals that could be desired. There was meat of all kinds, venison, pork, beef, mutton, chicken and turkey, wheat and corn bread, pies of various kinds, molasses, honey, in fact everything that could be reasonably wanted. Such a supper at the present time could not probably be afforded for much less than a hundred dollars. The whole of these provisions at that time would not have brought more than ten dollars in the market. As our ancestors had always abundance to eat, so also were they well provided with good and substantial clothing, seeing that they manufactured their own woolen and linen wear. In a word, so far as all the substantial comforts of life are concerned, they enjoyed themselves fully as well as the present generation, notwithstanding railroads, telegraphs and all other improvements of the present day.

HEALTH OF THE TOWN.

Newark at the date of this sketch was a remarkably unhealthy town. I have already mentioned the chain of ponds which surrounded the public square. These ponds were sufficient of themselves to produce sickness; accordingly, intermittent fever, or fever and ague, as it was called remained a fixture for many years. Dr. Brice was at that time the principal physician in town and I have a distinct remembrance of his mode of practice in this disease, having been obliged for several years in succession (much against my will) to take the preliminary dose of calomel and jalap, and during the intermission a wine-glassful of wine and Peruvian bark, several times through the course of the day. This was the mode of practice at an early day. Intermittent fever was also the prevalent disease of all the surrounding country, scarcely anyone escaping it through the summer months. Indeed, so common was the ague that it was scarcely regarded as a disease. In spite of all remedies employed for the cure of ague, it frequently continued through the summer season and until the appearance of the first white frost, when it expired, as it were, by limitation. In the country a great variety of remedies were in use for the cure of ague. These were principally tinctures or extracts of various kinds of barks and roots such as dogwood and wild cherry, snakeroot, etc. I do not doubt that these remedies were equally as efficient for the ague as the Peruvian bark or quinine. This article (quinine) was not introduced into use until the year 1825. Fortunately, whiskey of an ecellent quality was plenty and cheap, and everyone could easily obtain it for the purpose of making medicine. In fact whiskey was a very good medicine per se. Tansey bitters were also in common use.

The members of the League have visited the Home every year since the family came to Granville, and their kindness is greatly appreciated. It is hoped that they may meet again with us before the Home is moved to Cincinnati.

A Reliable Remedy for the Whiskey and Beer Habit.

Very few men become drunkards because they like liquor. It is frequently the moderate drinkers, who, before he realizes his condition, has become a drunkard. The nervous system, having become accustomed to stimulants, is unable to do the same amount or quality of work without liquor, hence the victim drinks more and more. This is a state of disease and should be treated by Orrine. It destroys the desire for liquor so that the drink is not missed. There is no loss of time or detention from work when it is used.

Orrine is prepared in two forms: No. 1, the secret remedy, which can be used in food or drink without the knowledge of the patient; No. 2 for those who take the remedy of their own free will. Both forms are guaranteed. A registered guarantee in every box.

Treatise on how to cure drunkenness free on request. The Orrine Co., Washington, D. C. The price of either form is $1 a box, making the cost of the complete cure less than one-tenth what is usually charged at sanitariums, with a guarantee that the expense will be nothing unless a cure is gained. Three Candidates Initiated Tuesday Evening—Memorial Services, Sunday, Dec. 1.

Newark Lodge No. 391, B. P. O. E. had an exceedingly well attended and interesting meeting on Tuesday night. A large number of propositions for membership were received and acted on, and a class of three candidates were initiated into the mysteries of Elkdom, after which a fine lunch was served.

Further arrangements were made regarding the Elks' memorial services to be held at the Auditorium Sunday afternoon, December 1, when an interesting program will be carried out. The Columbus quartet will furnish the music for the occasion as well as local talent. Hon. James R. Fitzgibbon will deliver the eulogy, and Judge E. M. P. Brister will deliver the address.

This same day the representatives of 250,000 Elks will meet in over a thousand lodges of sorrow to recall the virtues of their departed brothers. The lodge of sorrow is perhaps the most distinctive feature of the Elks' order, and its beautiful services have attracted many to become members.

A Nurse's Story

If you are a sufferer from headache, neuralgia, or pain from any cause you should read the following letter from a nurse.

"For sometime I have felt it my duty to write you. I was having my doctor twice every week for headache. All he did for me was to give something to ease the pain. Sometimes the pain was so severe that I could not speak, and members of my family stood over me and gave me medicine every fifteen minutes until I was relieved. A sample of Dr. Miles' Anti-Pain Pills fell into my hands. I read the circular very carefully, and found my case described exactly. The next time my head began to ache I took the Pain Pills according to directions and I felt I was getting better, so I sent to the druggist for a box and took them until I was so much better that I was about the house all the afternoon. I have not had a doctor for headache since. When he met me sometime after he wanted to know how I was, and I told him what I had done, and he replied: "if you have found anything that will help you, stick to it;" and so I have. Being a nurse I have recommended them to a great many grateful people. One case I will mention. I saw a doctor go to a neighbor every week for months because she had such awful headaches; but for a long time I dared not suggest anything to her. One day I met her and I gave her a half a box of Anti-Pain Pills and she used them and has had no doctor since. She says they are a great blessing to her and said, "why didn't you tell me about them before." I could tell you of many similar cases."

Governor Haskell, of Oklahoma, is a competent witness as to the merits of Federal regulation, for Oklahoma had nothing else until Saturday, and he regards the attainment of the independent status of Statehood as an immense boon to his community. Enumerating the disabilities under which Oklahoma has been suffering, this Democratic governor asks: "If Federal control is such a good thing in a state, why has it proved so utterly inefficient in a territory?"

THE W. C. T. U.

The devotional services were in charge of Mrs. Rachel Anderson and the 46th Psalm was read as a lesson. The program for the day was not carried out, the leader being absent. But instead of the regular program railroad and legislation, Thanksgiving thoughts were the order, several taking part and expressing themselves as being thankful for the many blessings of the past year. Blest be the tie that binds was then sung. This was indeed a good meeting.

Next week Mrs. Swan will be present and address the union. Let all be present to enjoy a profitable afternoon and learn many things we ought to know about children and how to train them.

IRON SAFE

THAT HAD BEEN RIFLED BY MORGAN'S RAIDERS IS IN NEWARK.

Brought Here Twenty Years Ago by the Late James Barker, and is Now a Relic.

It would hardly attract a second glance if it stood in front of a pawn shop, for no matter how much a man wanted a safe, this, for the purpose of a strong box is as useless as though made of pasteboard.

The one to which we refer stands on the premises of Mrs. Barker, widow of the late James Barker, formerly wreckmaster for the B. and O., and one of the best known railroad men in the city of Newark, corner of East Main and First streets. Once strong and useful against "thieves who break through and steal," it now presents a very delapidated appearance. The door is torn off and on the opposite side is a hole through which one could thrust a hat. The history of this old safe is a remarkable and interesting one.

In 1863 General Morgan, the well known Confederate leader, who started on his ill fated trip through Ohio, which resulted in his capture and incarceration in the Ohio Penitentiary, is well remembered by the older residents of Newark. It was while he was retreating, finding the country rapidly rising in arms against him, that his raiders, famous for their horse "trading" proclivities, added another crime to their already burdened record. They came to Campbell's, a small station on the Baltimore and Ohio railroad in Guernsey county, eight or ten miles east of Cambridge. Ahead of his flying columns came the natives of that locality who had taken the hint at the first tocsin of war, and with their portable valuables, and especially their blooded stock, were fleeing to a place of safety.

The station agent, who was at once store keeper, baggage master and express agent, took the hint along with the rest and taking what he could, locked up the rest and trusted to Providence and the "Squirrel Hunters" to save what was in the strong box. The station building overhung a small river. The rough riders arrived on the heels of the retreating station agent and promptly went to work to crack the "box." They drilled in from the opposite side from the door with tools borrowed from a neighboring blacksmith shop, much the same as the "knight of the jimmy" at this day does.

Borrowing a little powder from the scanty stock of goods they put it in the drill hole and fired it. The door of the safe was torn from its hinges by the explosion and the contents secured by the robbers. They then fired the building and as it burned down the safe fell into the river. Some gentlemen shortly after the departure of the raiders took the safe door out of the stream and forwarded it to the Smithsonian Institute, where it now is, but the safe was too heavy to handle with their appliances and it remained in the stream for 28 years being in that time carried down during successive freshets a distance of three-quarters of a mile.

Mr. Barker knew the history of the safe and kept the location of it in his mind, only biding a time when he should have an opportunity to raise it. The opportunity came away back in the latter eighties, and he took it from the stream, brought it to Newark, and removed it to his residence as above stated. It is a very interesting relic of the days when the house was divided against itself and a brother's hand was stained with a brother's blood. Mrs. Barker will be pleased to show it to any who may be interested.

EVEN DOCTORS ENDORSE IT

FOR ALL SKIN TROUBLES.

It is a well-known fact that physicians seldom recommend or endorse proprietary remedies—it is against their interests to do so. How meritorious, therefore, must Palmer's Success Treatment be when letters like this are sent us:

"I certainly do not know of anything better in this world for skin eruptions of every name and nature than Palmer's 'SKIN-SUCCESS' Remedies, for results secured in my practice by their use warrant this assertion. Know it is very unusual for a practicing physician to testify in this way, but the treatment is so effective I feel justified in giving it my unqualified endorsement.—S. H. Johnson, M. D., Berlin, N. J."

The Palmer "SUCCESS" Treatment thoroughly eradicates all Skin and Blood Diseases, including Eczema, Salt Rheum, Psoriasis, Erysipelas, Acne, Scall, Pimples, Blackheads, Ringworm, Tetter, Ivy and Oak Poisoning, Itching Affections, Piles, Burns, Bruises and Sores; also Constipation and all Liver and Blood Diseases.

SKIDOO

SIGN FOR MRS SWAN WHEN SHE CALLED.

Clerks' Retail Union "Beat Her to It" When She Makes a Worthy Request.

Mrs. Mary Swan, who for several weeks past has been endeavoring to raise enough money to hire Judge Lindsey of Denver, Colo., to come to Newark to deliver a series of four lectures, was pleasantly surprised last night when she called on the union of the retail clerks in their club rooms to request them to donate a certain sum.

The young men had already made the motion that a substantial check be sent to her, but Mrs. Swan didn't know this, and made a very eloquent plea to the union. At the conclusion of the talk she was informed that the union she called on had "beaten her to it," and the check would be mailed her Wednesday.

Mrs. Swan was very much pleased, and remarked that it was up to her to "skidoo" since the boys had anticipated her wants, and from now on she will swear by the "23"rd club she called on.

E. S. Cramer, proprietor of a livery and boarding stable at 59 West Main street, and living at 95 Eddy street, Newark, O., says:

"I endured backache for a long time before I knew that it originated form the kidneys. I felt well in every way but my back was a continual misery to me. There was dull aching in the loins, extending around to the left side. If I remained in one position for any length of time and then attempted to move quickly, sharp, shooting pains would strike me, some times in one place and sometimes in another. I tried liniments and used several remedies with no effect. Hearing at length of Doan's Kidney Pills I got a box at Crayton's drug store. It is really remarkable how quickly I found relief. The remedy seemed to attack the cause of my trouble and in time it so eradicated every sign and symptom of it that for the 18 months since I used Doan's Kidney Pills I have had no return of my trouble."

The Regal Shoe

The Monmouth is patterned after a New York custom bootmaker's model originated for young business men's and college men's wear. Every detail of correct custom modeling is at once apparent in its style features as shown by the photograph. The narow slope-toe, the "swing" of the forepart, the flat tread of the sole, the "spade" trimmed extension edge and Military heel are all characteristic of this season's newest fashions. The vamp is cut from the finest quality of upper leather we can buy—smooth-finished Black King Calf. This is made of a special selection of smallsize calf skins, soft and flexible, but wonderfully tough and with unequalled wearing qualities. These skins are tanned by the chrome process which not only gives the finished leather a handsome surface but renders it remarkably weather resisting. Matt Calf is used in the top of the shoe. Every bit of leather in the soles heels, counters, and toe-boxes of the Monmouth is Oak-Bark-Tanned--a quality now used almost exclusively by the custom bootmakers.

INTERESTING LETTER FROM MRS. SMITH

Giving a Vivid Description of Her Trip to San Diego, Cal., Described as "The Perfect Place."

We left Montrose, Colorado, and steamed away for California. We traveled through miles of Utah's desert, her sand hills lying like huge elephants and camels in immense corrals, the hills and rocks forming grotesque pictures resembling various objects.

In one stretch we came to collossal mounds, one after another, shaped like newly made graves, and as we sped along we called this place the "giants' burying ground." Then came the fortresses and castles, pictures of old world ruins, and one can hardly believe these are Nature's work, but seem to be really the ruins of old feudal castles. Again, we passed what seemed to be thousands and thousands half buried casks and barrels of great size, lying piled high as far as the eye could see. We named this place "Goliath's wine cellar." We had not heard of that great giant ever owning a wine cellar but the size of those seemingly petrified casks, suggested a giant for their owner, and on the spur of the moment we gave them to Goliath.

Next came miles of half circles, acres of ground enclosed half way around by high hills, and reminding one of separate homesteads, each owner having shut himself and farm inside a wall, to ward off encroachments of hostile powers The unvaried eveness of these half circles, one after the other, made us give them the name of "embroidery of Mother Nature's dress."

All through eastern Utah, land of rocks and sand hills, we were entertained by a panorama of forms giving rise to imaginative fancies.

We stopped half a day at Salt Lake City, but ouiside of its few large buildings and temple of note, it seemed to us a city of the past. We only had a fleeting glimpse of the wonderful Salt Lake. The many poplar trees, everywhere seen, in and around the place, make the coldness and dreariness of it more pronounced.

We left at 9 p. m. and in the early morning were entering Nevada. It was late in the afternoon when we began to climb the Sierra Nevadas, and run into one tunnel after the other, through these great rocks, climbing higher and higher until we came to the snowsheds on the divide.

We had just emerged from a long tunnel when we saw a beautiful picture. A dashing mountain stream, beside a winding road, with verdant trees bordering it, the graceful boughs bending toward the water, and for several miles on this ascending mountain road we saw a thousand sheep, or more than that, with their shepherds and watch dogs, wending their way to new pastures. There are fine painting of scenes like this, but to see the reality on such a great scale outclassed the grandest canvas.

We gradually descended the Pacific slope of the mountains, and neared the eastern border of the Golden State. During the night we covered many miles of southeastern California, and while asleep in my berth I dreamed of seeing many lovely roses, but it was just a day later when my dream became a reality, and we were riding through orange groves and palm gardens, and the fragrance of roses reached us, a couplet of the old song kept rising to my lips, "In orange groves and myrtle bowers, the ring dove flits and murmurs there," etc. For half a day our eyes feasted on this verdant scene, when, as if to entertain us to the utmost, the coast range, "rock ribbed and ancient as the sun," came to our view. Old rugged rocks that stand barring the sight of the Pacific coast, as if Nature erected this wall to make the first sight of the ocean more impressive when one had scaled their forbidding front.

We reached the village of Serra, or Surf, when we caught our first sight of the mighty waters. My first impression on seeing the blue waves break into white foam, then drop again into blue, suggested a dainty lady performing some new and graceful dance for my amusement. The rising wave bein caused by motion of her feet and the fleecy break into white foam, the shower of lacy ruffles on her beatuiful white dress, which fell into place as soon as her feet touched the sea.

This she repeated again and again, and the soft music of the dance was the murmur of the waves.

Surely everyone who sees the ocean for the first time calls imagination into play, and sees some picture, or weaves a fancy from its glory and greatness.

We bordered the coast for miles, and at one place an accommodating whale reared its huge bulk out of the water for our especial benefit.

We entered Los Angeles, and had to run to catch our train for San Diego, so will visit that city later. At last after three days and nights journey, we skirted the bay which lies west and south of this city of beauty, mild climate and fertile soil. It is claimed that the climate here is the most suitable in the world, there being no sudden change in temperature.

There is a population of 42,000. This varies continually on account of the many tourists increasing that number to some extent. A large area of many hills and sloping valleys is covered, and many homes with green lawns, beautiful flower gardens, rose hedges, palm trees and the lacy leaved red berried pepper trees, are everywhere to be seen. Even the soil in the street is fine enough for a flower garden.

Many fine public buildings finished and some in construction, are in the business portion of the city, and the Grant hotel, now being erected, is one of the finest structures on the Pacific coast.

When on one of the many heights, one gets a view of the ocean and bay, a lovely sight for the nature lover.

A park of 1400 acres—think of it!—lies in the heart of the city, and is being continually improved and beautified. A fine oil boulevard makes driving through this park delightful.

After we rested for several days we started sight seeing. A ride across the bay on the ferry to Coronado, half a day at the ocean beach at that place, a walk through the flower court which surrounds the immense, picturesque hotel, and a trolley ride the entire breadth of the peninsula, was one day's excursion.

Another day we went to La Jolla and spent our time at that famous resort.

The rocks along the coast are honeycombed with large holes, and the incoming waves dash their foamy spray to great heights upon them. Here we had our first ocean bath, and entirely forgot we were adults, but played in the sand and ran races with the waves to our hearts' delight. Later in the day we visited the cave which extends 80 feet under the beach. We went down 136 steps, through a long passageway. The cave room has a great opening in one end. The sea comes into it with a roar and the spatter of foam reached the rocks on which we stood. The waves light up the walls when they break, and all the colors of the rainbow are seen. Soft frescoed tints and borders appear upon the walls, and shapes and forms of men, women, animals and birds are carved upon them by Nature's hand. One little marine scene, a picture in oval, mocks at art, and we exclaim, "What can paint like Nature?" Can imagination boast amid it gay creation, hues like hers? Or can it mix them with that matchless skill, as here appears?

At low tide there are several other caves that can be entered, in the glass bottomed boat, and submarine scenes can be seen, but we were there at full high tide, so only saw the main cave.

Another day we visited Mission park, and across the street from it the Bentley ostrich farm. We saw the ostriches of all sizes, from a day old to the full grown, many plumed birds. The department for display of plumes is especially attractive to feminine visitors.

We still have many points of interest to visit, which include a fishing trip to Coronado Islands, a ride to, and sight of the French battleship that lies near the harbor, and a run across the border to Old Mexico, a tallyho ride to Point Loma and the lighthouse, and a sail across the bay to Port Rosencrans.

Perhaps some of the home folks will take a trip soon to Golden California. If any come to San Diego to locate, the real estate men, of whom their are hundreds, will probably meet you at the station. They will show you bargains and speculation, and every one will tell you that San Diego is nearest the most perfect place to live in the whole world.

NEWARK CAN TAKE CARE OF HER INTERESTS

The eastern clubs of the O. & P. league are fast beginning to recognize the fact that Newark is entitled to a great deal of consideration and are coming off "the high horse" attitude assumed by them the past few weeks.

During the past season the attendance at the Newark games was greater than that of any other club in the league. It will be the only club which can show a balance on the right side of the ledger and will be the only one to declare a dividend.

When the matter of redistricting comes up at the meeting to be held in Cleveland in January the Newark representative will have something to say. We do not propose to be pushed aside at the whim of Youngstown or Akron, neither will we be dictated to by teams in the western end of the circuit. There is no doubt but what an amicable agreement can be reached, and Newark will take care of her own interest when the proper time arrives.

A CONSULTATION O'ER THE SITUATION.

Ah, how well do I remember, it was in the bleak December and like the year, the old house seemed just dying of decay; so we held a consultation and discussed the situation, and decided wi Aurora Paint to paint the place in May. This we did and like the flowers, that revive with sun and showers, the old home once more looked quite new in colors bright and gay. Aurora Mixed Paints are more durable than other paints. Manufactured by The Marietta Paint and Color Co., Marietta, Ohio. Sold by Newark Paint Co 31 West Church street.

AMUSEMENTS

SWEET KITTY BELLAIRS.

One of the most pronounced successes in New York in recent years,

Fanchon Campbell as "Sweet Kitty Bellairs."

[illegible] "Sweet Kitty Bellairs," which the foremost American dramatist and master of theatric art, David Belasco wrote and presented to the metropolitan social world at the Belasco theater for many months continuously. "Sweet Kitty Bellairs" is of English origin, in a prologue and four acts, founded on Egerton Castle's book, "The Bath Comedy." The period is 1793, during the reign of King George the Third. It is a comedy of sentiment, character, and mixed situations, and local Manager Johnson is receiving congratulations over his good fortune in securing "Sweet Kitty Bellairs" for the Auditorium Monday evening next. The opening of the advance sale will be Thursday morning.

AUBREY STOCK COMPANY.

Novelties are to be introduced at each performance of the Aubrey Stock company at the Auditorium this week. Tonight, Karland, the wonderful handcuff expert, will extricate himself from a government mail sack locked with the latest type of padlock. Tomorrow he will extricate himself from a store box prepared by one of the local business firms of the city, after the box has been nailed and bound with wire. On Friday Mr. Karland will free himself from a straight jacker, while on Saturday something else equally novel will be the bill. On Friday night the quartet of Denison students will produce their new musical turn, and this from all accounts, will be a treat.

Tonight's bill will be "A Midnight Marriage," while tomorrow night "Why Girls Leave Home" will occupy the boards. Two exceedingly strong bills.

THANKSGIVING AT THE AUDITORIUM

Many inquiries have been made regarding the bill for Thanksgiving afternoon and night. Manager Johnson announces that he has one o the leading operatic stars of the country, Miss Helen Bertram, Ann Hamilton and an unusually strong company billed for that date. Orders for seats are already being taken at the theater office.

THE FLAMING ARROW.

"The Flaming Arrow" a play typical of Western life, with the scouts, Indians, soldiers and trappers, played at the Auditorium last night and handed out plenty of thrills to the audience that saw it The scenery and costumes were in keeping with the times The Indian band was good and responded to many encores. The work of Ed. C. Woodruff, Hod Weston and Ed S. Alle ndeserves special commendation.

EDMUND VANCE COOKE.

Edmund Vance Cooke, the famous poet, will appear at Taylor Hall next Wednesday night. This is the second number on the Y. M. C. A. Star Course Mr. Cooke has gained a reputation rivaling that of Poet Riley. He is read the world round and well known for his famous poems, "Moo Cow Moo," "Bobby's Deserting Sin," "Nathan's Flat," and others. Among others that will be read by Mr. Cook will be "Plug" from his famous book, "Impertinent Poems;" "At the Concert," and "Folks at Come to Our House," from "The Little Tot" Others of his books of poems from which he will read are "Domestic Dialects," "Foreign Philosophies," "Songs of Sentiment," and "Tales Worth Telling." A few good course seats can yet be secured. About 50 seats will be reserved for this entertainment.

SOCIETY'S TONGUE WAGGING.

In London society's tongue is wagging, just now over that "lucky young American violinist," Francis Macmillen Two events of unusual importance have recently happened to him.

First: Lady Palmer, wife of Sir Walter Palmer, the prominent member of Parliament and herself a leader of the smart set, has given the virtuoso an $8,000 Stradivarius violin.

Close upon this event came the sale of a painting of Macmillen by Maurice Wagemans, the celebrated Belgian artist, to the Brussels National Art Gallery for 18,000 francs

Mr. Macmillen's debut in London is said to make an epoch in London musical history. Robin Legge, the English critic, writing in the Strand, says of him: "I believe that Macmillen will go farther and stay longer than any of the other violinists of the age—because I honestly believe he possesses in a higher degree the sublime quality of the right kind of genius, the genius which puts artistry at the top and uses pyrotechnics only as a means to an end, and not as an end itself."

Macmillen's career began at Marietta, O., when he was five years old. His first bid for fame was made when at 16 he caputred the "first prize with the greatest distinction" and the Van Hal prize at the Brussels Royal Conseravotry This is the only time these awards were ever given to an American. MacMillen's tour of 98 concerts in America last season is fresh in the memory of all music lovers.

ORPHIUM THEATER.

The show at the Orphium is the best of the season From start to finish the acts are laugh-getters and deserve all the applause they get. It would be hard to pick the real headliner, but the playlet, "Kid Hickey," with Dolly Sterling and Morris Manley is the most appreciated of all the turns. Miss Sterling is pretty and forms a good foil for the rather rough character of Kid Hickey, the

"pug". Toki Murati, the Japanese juggler has a very clever act, the best probably in the wire walking line that will be seen here this season. juggling with a large umbrella was unusual and good. The Gilmore Sisters have the laugh-getter in a sister turn, and are decidedly pleasing in their specialty. The Crotty trio have a singing and dancing turn that catches the fancy of the audiences The song and the picture are good and close a decidedly pleasing bill.

AT THE SOUTHERN THEATER.

On Monday and Tuesday, November 25 and 26, the Southern theater, Columbus, will offer one of the greatest triumphs of the season, W. H. Crane in "Father and the Boys." This new piece is from the pen of George Ade and marks a distinct advance in his work. It has been characterized by the Chicago critics as a splendid American play, possessing a coherent story with a strong dramatic plot, and a constant play of humor which is irresistible. W. H Crane appears in a role portraying the modern business man who retains a sense of proportion and a quick insight into the humorous aspects of things. He sets out to show his two sons the foolishness of their indolent and extravagant ways and the result is, it is assured, a story of much interest as well as of unflagging humor.

No comedy of recent years has achieved such success as has "Brewster's Millions," which will be presented at the Southern theater on Thursday, November 28, by Cohan and Harris' comedians.

Of all the musical successes which were endorsed by New York the past season, none stood out more boldly, and continued throughout the year as did Charles Dillingham's production of the Henry Blossom and Victor Herbert's musical story, "The Red Mill." The tone of refinement which pervades, the modest and picturesque costuming, the interesting and clever story of two American tourists who have gone broke on a traveling trip and the many complicated situations they find themselves in, including the escape from the mill, form one of the most sensational stories ever given a musical setting. At the Southern on Friday and Saturday, Nov. 29-30.

YOUNG GIRL SENT TO THE INDUSTRIAL HOME

Fifteen Year Old Maud Sprague Said to Be Incorrigible—Her Mother is Dead.

The case of the State of Ohio vs. William Sprague and Maud Sprague was heard in the Probate court Wednesday. Maud is 15 years old and recently attained unenviable notoriety in connection with the charge of an attempted criminal assault made on her by a man who sold graphophones. The case is a very sad one, as the girl's mother is dead, and there is a large family of little children. The father is a hard working man and could not very well look after his daughter while he was away from home. The evidence showed that the girl had not been at school at all the present year; that she was incorrigible and that she had been in the habit of going out at nights with men. The girl is not overly bright, and the court ordered her sent to the Girls' Industrial school at Delaware, where she will be schooled and kept under proper control.

HOME FROM BRAZIL FOR SHORT VISIT

Oliver Tucker returned to this city Sunday from Brazil, where he has been located for some time, and where he is engaged in orchid buying and collecting.

In Brazil alone there are over 6,000 varieties of orchids. Mr. Tucker seeks the locality where the particular variety grows which he is desirous of obtaining and then employs native collectors to go after them. They grow on forest trees, some of which have a height of 150 feet. If the tree happens to be too high it is cut down and if small they climb them. They are brought in, packed in packing cases or crates and shipped direct to the dealers located all over Europe and in New York.

The dealers ship them to florists or orchid growers, who plant and cultivate or rather, reproduce them. It takes about a year before they bloom and the result is a beautiful flower five to six inches in diameter, with a crisped or frilled margin of a rich magenta purple, bordered with rosy lilac. They are becoming more common in the larger cities of the East and sell from 40 cents to $1.50 each, according to the season of the year.

Orchids are only handled by experienced growers, their culture requiring a great deal of care. If the flower comes white and stays white it is very valuable. The orchid is a tropical plant and must have different temperatures in different seasons, also for different varieties. They are usually reproduced by planting in a moss reservoir of moisture and secure their substance from air and moisture exclusively.

There are but few Americans in Brazil but a great many Englishmen. At one time in the city of Recife Mr. Tucker was the only native-born American in the whole population.

The natives are not hard to get along with and many of them are fast becoming civilized while others are only partly so Mr. Tucker will return to Brazil in a few days, sailing from New York.

CATARRH OF THE STOMACH

A Most Dangerous Disease, Which Causes Serious Results, Unless Properly Treated.

Catarrh of the Stomach is very common and is known as one of the most obstinate diseases, which, when neglected or improperly treated with cheap patent medicines, tonics, drugs, pills and other secret quack remedies results in a broken down constitution and often consumption and death.

Catarrh of the Stomach, like every other disease of the stomach except cancer, is the result of poor digestion. The digestive organs have become weak, there is a lack of gastric juice, your food is only half digested, and as a result you become effected with loss of appetite, pressure and fulness after eating, heartburn, vomiting, waterbrash, tenderness at pit of stomach, slimy tongue, bad taste in the mouth, constipation, pain in limbs and face, sleeplessness, nausea, belching of gas, diarrhoea, sick headaches, dizziness, mental depression, nervous weakness, and many other common symptoms.

If your stomach cannot digest the food you eat, then the stomach needs a rest, as that is the only way you can get rid of your catarrh, but in the meantime your body needs plenty of nourishment, because you must live and in order to live you must eat. and if you must eat, your food must be properly digested, and if your stomach is too weak to do the work, then you must get a substitute that will do the work.

Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets are the only known substitute that will digest your food as well as any healthy stomach. They contain vegetables and fruit essences, aseptic pepsin (gov. test), golden seal and diastase, the very elements necessary to digest all foods.

Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets are not a secret remedy and for that very reason thousands of physicians all over the United States recommend them to their patients for catarrh of the stomach, dyspepsia of all kinds, and other stomach troubles. Experiments and tests have proven that one grain of the active principle contained in these tablets will digest 3,000 grains of food.

Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets are in the form of pleasant tasting tablets or lozenges and are sold in large fifty-cent boxes at all drug stores.

Send us your name and address and we will send you a free sample package. The relief you will get from this trial package alone will convince you of the merits of Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets. Address F. A. Stuart Co, 150 Stuart Bldg., Marshall, Mich.

UTICA NEWS

Situation Remains Unchanged in Regard to the Glass Factory Trouble—Village News.

Utica, Nov. 20—Mayor Bricker on Tuesday took Bud Worley to the Columbus workhouse. Worley pleaded guilty to a charge of drunkenness and mistreating his wife.

Mr. Armstrong, formerly blacksmith at the Utica glass factory, and Ms. Lon Wright, formerly blacksmith at the Licking factory, have purchased the blacksmith shop of S. P. Jones on South Main street.

The sixth and last of the large castings was started from Utica on Tuesday and no difficulty was experienced in transporting it through the town and across the creek.

The glass situation here remains unchanged, but the manufacturers and the wage committee of the workmen will get together in Indianapolis Thursday and it is expected that they will agree upon a scale. Several of the leading merchants of Utica have been compelled to release some of their force of clerks owing to the dullness in business due to the factory troubles.

TO REVISE THE BIBLE

Rome, Nov. 20.—Abbot Gaspuet, president of the English Benedictines, has arrived in Rome to undertake another revision of the Vulgate of St. Jerome's Latin version of the Bible. This matter has been entrusted to the Benedictines by the Vatican.

The abbot had a long private audience with the Pope on the matter in hand. The Pope realized the vastness of the undertaking, and has authorized the abbot to associate with himself whatever scholars he would like. The researches are to be carried out in all parts of the world.

The abbot estimates that the cost of his revision will be about $50,000 a year.

RECOVERS DIAMONDS

Thought She Had Been Robbed, But Had Dropped the Purse Containing the Stones.

It's a bad practice that of carrying rings in a purse, especially if you happen to be a little careless. That is the opinion of Mrs. Mary Southard, 121 East Main street, who thought Tuesday that she had been robbed of about $200 worth of diamonds. Mrs. Southard came up town to do a little shopping and in a chatelaine bag she had two smaller purses, one containing $23, the other five rings that she valued at $200.

After she arrived home the rings were missing and she concluded she had been robbed. However this morning a person in the Union meat market picked up a purse and turned it over to the proprietor. In the purse was the missing property which has been turned over to the owner. Mrs. Southard in pulling her money purse out, pulled the other one out with it, and it dropped to the floor without her knowing it.

Newark Evidence For Newark People

NO SIGN NOW OF NERVOUS HEADACHE.

Whoever has suffered from one of those severe nervous headaches can read the statement given below and find the same relief as Mrs. Lindsay obtained. All that is needed is a trial of Dr. Richards Dyspepsia Tablets. They possess marvelous curative powers.

Dr. Richards Dyspepsia Tablets Association, 53 and 55 Worth St., New York.

"Gentlemen:—Up to two months ago, before I began taking Dr. Richards Dyspepsia Tablets I suffered greatly from nervous Dyspepsia and severe headaches. I got so used to have these headaches two or three times a week I was almost distracted. The medicine I took did not seem to do me any good. I heard Dr. Richards Dyspepsia Tablets spoken of very highly and I got a bottle at R. W. Smith's Drug Store. I had taken 4 bottles of these little tablets and have not had a sign of a headache for a month. My appetite is good; that old nervous feeling is gone and I am at least feeling like myself again thanks to Dr. Richards Dyspepsia Tablets.

Yours truly,

NOW GOOD DIGESTION WAITS ON APPETITE AND HEALTH ON BOTH.

Good digestion is not what everyone has. Some have mighty poor digestion and would give much to have the digestion that youth usually possess. It can be gotten. There is a drug store in Newark the Mecca of all Dyspeptics and stomach sufferers in the city, because it has on sale a remedy tried and true, the finished product of thought and experiment, which cures all such victims. It is called Dr. Richards Dyspepsia Tablets and the following gentleman has used them and tell the story of his case.

Dr. Richards Dyspepsia Tablet Association, 53 and 55 Worth St., New York.

Gentlemen:—I was in bad shape when I began taking Dr. Richards Dyspepsia which I got at R. W. Smith's Drug Store about two months ago. I felt well after taking four bottles of this wonderful medicine. I had to give up work for a while last winter as I was very weak and run down and lost in weight. I was hungry all the time, but hardly dared eat because I knew that the results would be distress and misery for hours. I am happy to say that I am now all right, thanks to the use of Dr. Richards Dyspepsia Tablets.

THE HEALER IS HERE.

The victims of indigestion are all around us; we meet them everyday and would like to cure them. This can be done by telling them of Dr. Richards Dyspepsia Tablets, that have cured many in Newark. Here is one of many:

Mrs. Anna E. Roberts, 197 Mound street, Newark, Ohio, says:

Dr. Richards Dyspepsia Tablet Association, 53 and 55 Worth street, New York.

Gentlemen:—If there is any other remedy equal to Dr. Richards Dyspepsia Tablets, I do not know of it. I got a bottle at R. W. Smith's drug store, which cured me of a bad case of indigestion and dyspepsia.

WORTH AN EFFORT.

The best possible advice for millions of stomach sufferers, who have vainly tried medicines and fads on diet, is to try living for two months on one of the so-called "blood making" medicines alone, and then try food and see if it isn't the best medicine and that it is made effective by using Dr. Richards Dyspepsia Tablets. We feel sure you will be compensated after a fair and square trial.

Mr. J. W. Applegate, 250 Broad street, Newark, Ohio, says:

"The dyspepsia which had troubled me so long has been made to disappear entirely since using Dr. Richards Dyspepsia Tablets. I was in the worst condition possible, caused by this dread ailment. I suffered from acidity of the stomach and there were very few things I dared eat, knowing full well the tortures I would have to endure if I partook of anything the least heavy. Life was really a burden to me, but along came your tablets and having had my attention called to them at R. W. Smith's drug store, and after procuring them and taking them according to directions, my whole system has been toned and invigorated and I thank you most heartily for all these benefits. I will recommend them at all times. Nothing better."

CURED AT 462 GRANVILLE STREET.

When the case is so bad that work has to be stopped it takes a remedy that attacks the very foundation of the trouble to restore health and normal conditions. This is the character of work done by Dr. Richards Dyspepsia Tablets, as the following illustrates:

Dr. Richards Dyspepsia Tablet Association, 53 and 55 Worth street, New York.

A TIRED STOMACH RESTED.

Sleep, nature's sweet restorer, that knits up the raveled sleeve of care and rests tired bodies. What, however, can rest a tired stomach and bring to it again strength to perform its work smoothly. That great cure which has done so much for Newark, tired stomachs is the sweet restorer of a stomach weary from overwork. It is called Dr. Richards Dyspepsia Tablets and can be had at R. W. Smith's drug store.

Mrs. Minnie Fenner, 139 Leroy street, says:

Dr. Richards Dyspepsia Tablet Association, 53 and 55 Worth street, New York City.

Gentlemen:—I cannot speak too strongly in praise of Dr. Richards Dyspepsia Tablets. About a month ago I got a bottle of these Tablets at R. W. Smith's drug store, and as soon as I began using them I noticed a marked improvement in my health. For almost two years I had been subject to frequent attacks of indigestion and had tried many remedies both in liquid and tablet form. My appetite was poor; felt distressed after eating, and had dizzy and fainting spells, I can honestly say after taking only three bottles of your remedy, I am entirely cured of all my old troubles and shall deem it a pleasure to speak to all my friends about this splendid remedy. I thank you very much for all the good they have done me and wish you much success in this locality.

Yours truly,

EXHAUSTED BY CHRONIC DYSPEPSIA, VITALIZED BY A TRUE AND TRIED REMEDY.

Dyspepsia saps life's energies, not alone of the body, but also of the mind. If the faculties and the vitality are enfeebled by the inroads of this evil malady, exhaustion soon follows effort. A condition like unto this needs radical treatment that will strike at the root of the disorder. What quick power and might to cure such cases is possessed by Dr. Richards Dyspepsia Tablets, the following illustrates:

W. M. Amspaugh, 84 North Williams street, says:

"If this did not happen in my case, I would not believe it possible. I have been a long sufferer from dyspepsia; could not digest anything; lived entirely on cereals; was losing flesh daily; the simplest work completely exhausted me and the least excitement brought on palpitation of the heart and I would become very faint and dizzy. I thought I would surely die unless I got relief. Dr. Richards Dyspepsia Tablets were recommended very highly and I obtained a package of them at R. W. Smith's drug store. I began with them at once and the improvement has been very rapid. They have done a world of good for me and have thoroughly driven away all those annoying sensations. I only wish I had heard of your remedy before as I feel sure I would have been enjoying good health long ago. I recommend them as the best I have ever taken and wish you great success with them."

NOTHING LIKE IT FOR CURING NEWARK INDIGESTION.

Yes, it occured right in your own city. Not in some other way off place. The sufferer had indigestion and lives at 192 North Fourth street. This is what she says:

Dr. Richards Dyspepsia Tablet Association, 53 and 55 Worth street, New York.

Gentlemen:—I can hardly believe myself to be the same person I was before getting a bottle of Dr. Richards Dyspepsia Tablets at R. W. Smith's. I had dyspepsia and stomach troubles in most disagreeable forms. The Tablets I believe are going to cure me.

How do you know it is true? Did the people who sell it say so? No, the people who bought it said so. Who are they and where do they live? They are residents of Newark, where you live and you probably know some of them. Here is what one of many says:

Dr. Richards Dyspepsia Tablet Association, 53 and 55 Worth street, New York.

Gentlemen:—In my case your Tablets proved beneficial to me; done for me all they claimed, and I could recommend the Tablets to any one that is afflicted as I was. I purchased these Tablets at the drug store of R. W. Smith.

CURED IN NEWARK.

It has been tried in Newark and it is proven that what has been done in other countries and the islands of the sea has been done here.

Dyspepsia, indigestion and stomach troubles give way to Dr. Richards Dyspepsia Tablets wherever found.

Hope for all sufferers from these ailments can now be made glad facts at home.

Mrs. Wm. Rice, 182½ East Main street, Newark, Ohio, says:

"Recently I procured a bottle of Dr. Richards Dyspepsia Tablets at R. W. Smith's drug store, and have given them a good trial and must say that they have benefited me wonderfully. I do not think there is any medicine their equal for stomach disturbances. They took hold of my case at once, in fact, so much so that they have entirely cured me. Your Tablets did what no other remedy could. They were truly a revelation, for I could not have believed that there was anything that could do what your remedy has done."

A NEWARK DYSPEPTIC ASTOUNDED BECAUSE CURED.

Miracles are happening which are beyond the comprehension of a finite mind. Some cures come under this head and astonish the one upon whom the cure has been worked. The fact, however, remains, that belief in Dr. Richards Dyspepsia Tablets is the result solely and entirely of cures. Here is the story of one of them which occurred right in Newark.

Dr. Richards Dyspepsia Tablet Association, 53 and 55 Worth street, New York.

Gentlemen:—A friend who knew how I suffered from dyspepsia went to R. W. Smith's drug store, four or five weeks ago and got me a bottle of Dr. Richards Dyspepsia Tablets. I started taking them with little or no faith, for I had tried many medicines before without success; but it is a fact, that my health began to improve almost at once. And, mind you, I was greatly troubled with sour stomach, and there were very few things that agreed with me at all. I also suffered much from constipation and had to use cathartics with great frequency. Dr. Richards Dyspepsia Tablets have made by troubles disappear and I am feeling as well as I ever did in my life. The constipation and bowel trouble has also been relieved with the use of the yellow pills that come with the Tablets.

ANOTHER NEWARK CHRONIC CURED OF DYSPEPSIA.

One Sufferer Less In Newark—No Regrets.

Before Dr. Richards Dyspepsia Tablets appeared in Newark there was a power of dyspeptics in the town, but now they are growing less every day. They are being cured and show it in their lives which are now so much different and happy. What joy this one must feel after a diet of cereals for so long—he can eat anything now. And his strength is coming back to him every day.

C. M. Retherford must be mighty happy these days, for he says: "I was a victim to chronic dyspepsia for years, and at last had to live a great deal on cereals. My strength was reduced so that a little work would tire me completely. At times, also, I was dizzy and had heart palpitation. All symptoms have disappeared since I began taking Dr. Richards Dyspepsia Tablets, which I procured at R. W. Smith's drug store, and I am improving rapidly."

IS CERTAINLY NEXT-DOOR PROOF

Claims Are Easily Made, But Not Always Easily Proved, Unless There Is Real Merit.

OLD COMPLAINTS DISAPPEARED

Relief and Complete Cure Are Greatly Appreciated, as They Were Entirely Unexpected.

We like to furnish home evidence; to back up every statement with plenty of proof. Your own neighbors, after being benefited, tell you of their experience. This may be called next-door proof.

Mrs. D. Van Winkle, 332 West Church street, Newark, Ohio, says:

"All of my old-time troubles have been made to disappear since I began taking Dr. Richards Dyspepsia Tablets, and my health has improved very much. In fact, I might say that they have put me in perfect condition. The relief and complete cure in my case, you can bet is greatly appreciated, for I never expected to derive results. I had been suffering for a long time from dyspepsia and having heard of your remedy, I procured a package at R. W. Smith's drug store. The Laxocomfits have also relieved me of a bad case of constipation. My system has had a general overhauling through the combination of your remedies, and I have come out the victor. Thanks to your sterling remedy."

THE STOMACH DELIGHT.

Heart's delight is that which affects the life pleasantly. So it is with that which makes the stomach feel good, in fact, has the happy faculty of making you not know you have a stomach. To a dyspeptic this would be joy, indeed, for he, of all mankind, knows he has a stomach, and a disordered one at that. Dr. Richards Dyspepsia Tablets will make that stomach a delight instead of the opposite. They will do for him what they did for this Newark resident.

W. M. Donahue, 441 Woods avenue, Newark, Ohio, says:

"Recently I procured a bottle of Dr. Richards Dyspepsia Tablets at R. W. Smith's drug store, and have given them a good trial and must say that they have benfited me wonderfully. I do not think there is any medicine their equal for stomach disturbances. They took hold of my case at once, in fact, so much so, that they have greatly helped me. CHRONIC CASES CURED IN NEWARK.

It is easy enough to be pleasant when life goes on like a song, but life's songs are all dirges to a chronic dyspeptic. Talk is cheap—facts alone satisfy such conditions. Dr. Richards Dyspepsia Tablets are the vital facts of cure in such cases, and the proofs are right in your own city, as the following illustrates:

Mrs. M. Nagy, of 28 North Williams street, Newark, says. I went to R. W. Smith's store a few weeks ago and procured a bottle of Dr. Richards Dyspepsia Tablets. I had been afflicted for a long time with dyspepsia and could eat only the lightest food. I was hungry all the time, but did not dare to satisfy my craving. At times I would grow faint and it was difficult to keep from falling, the least exertion played me out entirely. Very nervous. As I said before, I got your medicine and took it according to directions, with the result that I improved so rapidly that I am astonished, for I could not believe such a thing possible. I have not been bothered since I began your treatment, and I can only praise and wish you success for your remedy.

DYSPEPTICS.

Sufferers From Indigestion, Dyspepsia and Constipation, Have Not Only Black Fridays, But About Every Day In the Seven Is of That Funeral Hue.

Consequently they do not enjoy life. They do not laugh very often. They are to be pitied and if possible, helped. The greatest help to them would be a cure. How life puts on a new color scheme to such victims is demonstrated by the use of Dr. Richards Dyspepsia Tablets. Read the evidence.

Mr. James K. Jennings, 63 Wilson street, Newark, Ohio, says:

"My digestion was bad, so much so, I lived entirely on cereals. I was losing flesh daily. My heart worried me a great deal on account of the fluttering which was caused by the least excitement and I would get so dizzy I would have to take hold of something to keep from falling, but since I came across Dr. Richards Dyspepsia Tablets at R. W. Smith's drug store, and after taking them for the past few weeks, I am really astonished at their results. They have put my health on a sound basis, and I feel no longer any of those symptoms of which I had suffered previously and I give your remedy the credit. They are the best that ever came under my observation."

TEN YEARS OF DYSPEPSIA CURED IN NEWARK.

One-third of a life-time suffering the tortures of dyspepsia. Lived on breakfast foods. Did not enjoy Christmas dinners for ten years. Now astonishment has taken the place of his dyspepsia, because he is cured. Ask Martin Thacker, 94 Jefferson street, about Dr. Richards Dyspepsia Tablets, or you can ask R. W. Smith about them.

Dr. Richards Dyspepsia Tablet Association, 53 and 55 Worth street, New York.

Gentlemen:—I suffered from chronic dyspepsia for ten years and finally got so that I had to live almost entirely on cereals for I could hardly digest anything else. I was losing flesh every day and knew that I could not live unless I could get relief soon. The simplest work would exhaust me and any slight excitement would make my heart beat like mad. At times I got so dizzy that I had to take hold of a chair to keep from falling.

I went to R. W. Smith's drug store some weeks ago, got a bottle of Dr. Richards Dyspepsia Tablets and began taking them. With the continued use of these tablets I am improving so rapidly that I am actually astonished and would not believe such thing could be possible if I did not see it happen in my own case.

WAITING WIFE

AND LITTLE SON WILL NEVER SEE HUSBAND AND FATHER AGAIN.

Roumanian Dies Last Night From the Injuries Received While at Work at Wehrle's.

To the little, far-away town of Sebes, Roumania, a letter is speeding to tell a faithful wife and a little son that the father who came to America to win a fortune for them, will never see them again, for Tom Nistor, the man who was terribly injured at the Wehrle factory Tuesday, died last night.

Nistor came to America a year ago to win the fortune he heard was to be found here with a little work on his part, then he would go back home after a few years and would be rich. But his fate was that of many of his countrymen, a violent death in the new land.

After his removal to the Sanitarium he was placed on the operating table and the doctors did all they could to save his life, but the injuries were too serious. A bag gash in his head required twenty stitches to close: his left arm had to be amputated at the shoulder and his system could not stand the shock.

Nistor has but one relative in this country, a cousin, Vosil Delemet, living in Coshocton. The funeral will be held at 2 o'clock Friday from the undertaking parlors of Criss Bros. & Jones. The burial will be made in Mt. Calvary. A Roumanian priest from Cleveland, will officiate.

MISSING MAN IS LOCATED BY POLICE

Chicago, Nov. 20.—Superintendent John L. Whitman of the house of correction appeared in the light of a successful tracer of lost persons. Working on small clews, Mr. Whitman numbers among his exploits the restoration of a "wandering boy" of 51 to his relatives and the return of a patient to a Ft. Wayne (Ind.) insane asylum who had escaped from his keepers

Thomas Jones of Newark O. had been missing from home for fifteen years until he fell into the hands of Mr. Whitman. He was suffering from the wages of drink and when out of his mind talked about his old home. Mr. Whitman wrote to the people he mentioned and in a reply received the man's brothers said they would call for him.

THE CENTURY IN 1908.

The novelist, Marion Crawford, has lately come into possession of a long and important letter written by the father of the unhappy Beatrice Cenci. He has also acquired another document, and has been furnished a copy of a third Cenci letter. With the use of these, and a restudy of the case he has prepared the true story of one of the most celebrated "causes" in human annals, showing incidentally the falseness of the history used by Shelley in his famous tragedy. The article will appear in an early number of The Century.
